Half-Yearly Report for the six months ended 28 February 2019

Investment Objective and Overview

The investment objective of Fidelity Special Values PLC is to achieve long term capital growth predominantly through investment in UK listed companies.

The Portfolio Manager, Alex Wright's, approach is very much in keeping with Fidelity Special Values PLC's heritage and history – that of an actively managed, contrarian investment trust which the Board believes will be appealing to both existing and potential investors alike. Alex focuses on buying unloved companies with the prospect of positive change, rather than those that are merely cheap. He invests in companies of all sizes, and in doing so hopes to position the Company as the investment of choice for those seeking exposure to UK listed companies but with the benefit of investing 20% of the portfolio in listed companies on overseas exchanges.

Whilst performance in the first half of the reporting period has been more challenging, there has been a strong recovery since the half year end and long term performance remains well ahead of the Benchmark Index over 3 and 5 years. The Company's shares remain in high demand and continue to trade at a premium. In addition, we are pleased to report that the Company has won several prestigious awards as can be seen from the logos below.

Summary of the key aspects of the Investment Policy

The investment approach is flexible, with positions in large, medium and smaller sized companies, across all industries. The Company may make limited investments in companies outside of the UK.

The Company may also invest into other transferable securities, collective investment schemes, money market instruments, cash and deposits and is also able to use derivatives for efficient portfolio management and investment purposes.

The Company is able to gear the portfolio and the Board takes the view that long term returns for Shareholders can be enhanced by the use of gearing in a carefully considered and monitored way.

Stock Market and Portfolio Review

The UK stock market saw mixed trends over the review period, falling sharply in the first half of the period before staging a recovery in 2019 to recoup some of the losses of the previous year. The Benchmark Index decline over the period of 3.7% was dominated by increasingly complex Brexit negotiations between the UK government and opposition parties, and concerns over global economic growth against a backdrop of the ongoing US-China trade frictions. After two years of double digit returns, the Benchmark Index fell by 9.5% on a total return basis in the 2018 calendar year; its worst annual performance since the financial crisis. However, hopes of an improvement in trade negotiations between the US and China led a rally in equities in 2019, with the Index returning 6.6% in the two months to the end of February 2019.

Overall, the global economy has continued to slow over recent months, with a broad-based softening across all regions. This has come about as a result of the tightening in global financial conditions, a weaker global demand environment, as well as the impact of trade tensions on business sentiment. The deceleration in global growth is expected to weigh on UK net trade, although markets expect more accommodative monetary policies in all major economies, which should support the economic outlook. UK economic growth slowed in late 2018 and appears to have weakened further in early 2019. There is now considerable uncertainty over the medium term outlook, although this could ease once greater clarity emerges on the US-China trade negotiations and the future path of Brexit.

The deeply unloved status of the UK market has created an exceptionally fertile period for contrarian stock picking. One thing I have learnt from investing in unloved companies is that you should not necessarily wait for good news to become obvious before investing. By investing when all the bad news is 'in the price' and no good news is expected at all, you put the odds in your favour. I believe this is the situation we are in currently in the UK.

In terms of performance, the Company's NAV underperformed the Benchmark Index in the reporting period. At a stock level, online gaming group GVC Holdings was the leading detractor weighed down by negative regulatory news. The Company's investment in Citigroup fell amid concerns over its earnings in a worsening global economic scenario and falling bond yields. However, the bank's recently announced fourth-quarter results showed profit growth that beat analysts' expectations on better than anticipated expense declines and loan losses. It also has substantial excess capital and the business remains fundamentally strong. The negative sentiment in the sector also weighed down the holding in Bank of Ireland. Defence contractor Ultra Electronics was another notable detractor owing to a combination of worries surrounding Brexit, as well as Saudi Arabian and US military spending cuts. The company also has its own accounting concerns but it looks attractively valued, and its shares have risen considerably during March 2019. Shares in Royal Mail fell after the courier company warned that its full year earnings were expected to fall sharply as it had failed to meet its cost saving targets.

Despite the difficult environment, several of our key holdings across sectors made significant contributions, with stock selection in the healthcare and technology sectors being particularly successful. Notable contributors included infrastructure group John Laing, whose assets have increased strongly as its diversified portfolio of projects proved resilient. Outsourcing group Serco was another notable contributor after the company raised its 2019 profit and revenue forecasts, buoyed by a run of recent contract wins, and a good environment for pricing. The exposure to Swiss pharmaceuticals group Roche Holdings also added value after it was boosted by strong results from two drug trials, including one that showed potential as a first line cancer treatment. Not holding underperforming tobacco company British American Tobacco also enhanced relative performance. The allocation to software group Micro Focus International added value as a trading update for the last fiscal year suggested that revenue declines are moderating following a period of significant merger and acquisition execution issues which led to turbulent sales growth.

I continue to look for opportunities that can be found across the market, among international as well as domestic businesses. Following the further deterioration in sentiment towards the UK in the last quarter of 2018, I increased exposure to domestic UK stocks, recycling capital primarily from US-facing businesses. I do not have a differentiated view on the UK political or macroeconomic outlook. I acknowledge the risks here, but am interested in investing in domestic businesses if they can satisfy these criteria; a low valuation which reflects a worst case outlook, a strong balance sheet that can support the business through a period of earnings volatility, structurally sound markets, and a self help story independent of the UK macro environment. A permanent feature of my investment process is to look for companies that can 'help themselves' without relying on a rising macroeconomic tide. I will typically avoid companies where margins are at historic highs.

Use of Derivatives

During the review period, the Company continued to use contracts for difference ("CFDs") to gear portfolio long exposure and to contract short positions. The previously opened hedge position on the FTSE 250 Index Future was again maintained.

Portfolio Manager's Half-Yearly Review continued

As the Company had some gearing and the market fell in the review period, the use of derivatives was a detractor in the portfolio. Overall, gross gearing was at 6.9% at the end of February 2019, down from 10.4% at the start of the review period.

Outlook

A selective approach remains important. Not all UK stocks are equally attractive, and although many domestic businesses are being unfairly ignored, others are structurally compromised or financially unsound and therefore best avoided. I am happy buying unloved domestic stocks if I can see a balance sheet that can withstand a period of economic weakness, and a valuation that gives me some margin of safety. Attractive valuations can be found across the market, in large and small companies, both international and domestic-facing. My process rests on identifying unloved companies with the potential for positive change. The number of unloved companies available to choose makes me believe that 2019 could turn into a surprisingly positive year for investors brave enough to buy UK equities before the good news happens.

As ever, I will be spending my time researching and meeting with the management of companies, looking for those that offer some degree of downside protection but also potential for a positive change to show them in a new light. In my experience, this is the best way to deliver capital growth over the long term.

Management Fee

As reported in the Annual Report for the year ended 31 August 2018, the Company has a new fee arrangement in place, with effect from 1 September 2018, which provides a reduction from the previous fee structure. The previous fee of 0.875% of net assets has been replaced by a tiered fee basis which is 0.85% on the first £700 million of net assets and reduces to 0.75% on net assets over £700 million. In addition, the fixed annual fee of £600,000 for services other than portfolio management reduced to £100,000 per annum. There is no change in the investment process as a result of the new fee arrangement.

Discount/Premium and Share Repurchases/Issues

Under the Company's discount management policy, the Board seeks to maintain the discount in single digits in normal market conditions and will repurchase shares to help stabilise the share price discount. As the Company's shares have been trading at a premium, the Company has not carried out any share repurchases in the reporting period and up to the date of this report.

Issuing shares increases the size of the Company, making it more liquid and allowing costs to be spread out over larger assets. The Board will approve share issues from Treasury if the Company's shares are generally trading at a sufficient premium to ensure that the issue of shares is not dilutive and the Company's Broker believes that the Company should be issuing shares from Treasury.

In the six months to 28 February 2019, the Company's shares traded at a premium which was within a range of 0.5% and 4.9%. As the Company's shares had traded at a level of premium to ensure that the issue of shares from Treasury was not dilutive, the Board authorised the issue of 4,095,000 shares which were all the shares that the Company held in Treasury. In addition, the Company issued the final 480,000 shares from a previous block listing authority. Therefore, the Company acquired a new block listing authority from the UK Listing Authority to issue up to 23,889,440 ordinary shares, effective from 15 January 2019. As at 28 February 2019, the Company had issued 1,370,000 shares from this new block listing authority.

In total, the Company issued 5,945,000 shares in the six month reporting period. Since then and as at the date of this report, the Company has issued a further 2,175,000 shares in order to meet demand.

Interim Dividend

The Board's dividend policy is to pay dividends twice yearly in order to smooth the dividend payment for the reporting year. The Company's revenue return for the six months to 28 February 2019 was 1.78 pence per share. The Board has declared an interim dividend of 2.10 pence per share which is 13.5% higher than the 1.85 pence per share paid as the prior interim dividend and provides a good balance between the interim and final dividend payments. This will be paid on 26 June 2019 to Shareholders on the register on 17 May 2019 (ex-dividend date 16 May 2019).

Shareholders may choose to reinvest their dividends for additional shares in the Company. Details of the Dividend Reinvestment Plan are set out on page 28.

Principal Risks and Uncertainties

The Board, with the assistance of the Alternative Investment Fund Manager (FIL Investment Services (UK) Limited/the "Manager"), has developed a risk matrix which, as part of the risk management and internal controls process, identifies the key risks and uncertainties faced by the Company.

The Board categorises the principal risks and uncertainties faced by the Company into two broad categories of external and internal risks. External risks comprise of market risk, share price risk, discount control risk, regulatory risk and cybercrime risk. Internal risks comprise of investment management risk and operational risks (such as service providers). Information on each of these risks is given in the Strategic Report section of the Annual Report for the year ended 31 August 2018. A copy of the Annual Report can be found on the Company's pages of the Manager's website at www.fidelity.co.uk/specialvalues.

These risks and uncertainties have not materially changed in the six months to 28 February 2019 and are equally applicable to the remaining six months of the Company's financial year.

Transactions with the Manager and Related Parties

The Manager has delegated the Company's portfolio management and the role of Company Secretary to FIL Investments International. Transactions with the Manager and related party transactions with the Directors are disclosed in Note 13 to the Financial Statements on page 26.

Going Concern

The Directors have considered the Company's investment objective, policy, strategy, the Company's projected income and expenditure and noted that the portfolio of investments is considered to be mainly readily realisable securities. Therefore, the Directors believe that the Company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Thus, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing these Financial Statements.

Continuation votes are held every three years and the next continuation vote will be put to Shareholders at the Annual General Meeting to be held in December 2019.

order to increase the Company's exposure to market price movements. The Company uses two key measures of gearing:

- Gross gearing is the total of: long exposures, plus short exposures and less exposures hedging the portfolio, expressed as a percentage of Shareholders' funds; and
- Net gearing is the total of: long exposures, less short exposures and less exposures hedging the portfolio, expressed as a percentage of Shareholders' funds.

Gross Asset Exposure

Gross Asset Exposure measures the exposure to market price movements as a result of owning shares, derivatives and fixed-interest securities.

Hedging

A strategy aimed at minimising or eliminating the risk or loss through adverse movements, normally involving taking a position in a derivative such as a future or an option.

Net Asset Value (NAV)

Net asset value is sometimes also described as "Shareholders' funds", and represents the total value of the Company's assets less the total value of its liabilities. For valuation purposes it is common to express the net asset value on a per share basis.

Options

An option is a contract which gives the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell an underlying asset at an agreed price on or before an agreed date. Options may be calls (buys) or puts (sells) and are used to gain or reduce exposure to the underlying asset on a conditional basis, for example, the purchase of a call option provides exposure to the upside potential of an underlying stock, with the downside risk being limited to the premium paid.

Premium

If the share price of the Company is higher than the net asset value per share, the Company is said to be trading at a premium. The premium is shown as a percentage of the net asset value. The opposite of a premium is a discount.

Return

The return generated in a given period from the investments:

- Revenue Return reflects the dividends and interest from investments and other income net of expenses, finance costs and taxation;
- Capital Return reflects the return on capital, excluding any revenue return; and
- Total Return reflects the aggregate of revenue and capital returns.

Shareholders' Funds

Shareholders' funds are also described as "net asset value" and represent the total value of the Company's assets less the total value of its liabilities.

Total Return Performance

The return on the share price or net asset value per share taking into account the rise and fall of share prices and the dividends paid to Shareholders. Any dividends received by the Shareholder are assumed to have been reinvested for additional shares (for share price total return) or the Company's assets (for net asset value total return).

Treasury Shares

Ordinary shares of the Company that have been repurchased by the Company and not cancelled but held in Treasury. These shares do not pay dividends, have no voting rights and are excluded from the net asset value per share calculation.
